To Isolde Wigram,

gallant co-founder of the present day Richard III Society, and champion of the standpoint that the 'princes in the Tower' were not murdered there, nor killed by Richard III.

'The purpose and indeed the strength of the Richard III Society derives from the belief that the truth is more powerful than lies – a faith that even after all these centuries the truth is important. It is proof of our sense of civilised values that something as esoteric and as fragile as a reputation is worth campaigning for.'
